Kenya is among the world's most corrupt countries, says one study. It is destroying the country's economy:

Corruption And 'Tenderpreneurs' Bring Kenya's Economy To Its Knees

70% of all corruption in Kenya is related to procurement-related contracts, and it is holding Kenya's prosperity

TABLE OF RESULTS: CORRUPTION PERCEPTIONS INDEX 2015

A country or territory's score indicates the perceived level of public sector corruption on a scale of 0 (highly corrupt) to 100 (very clean) relative to the other countries in the index. This year's index includes 168 countries and territories. Click on the column header to sort the results for one country. Note that N/A means a country was not included in the index during a particular year. To learn more about the index, please see our FAQs and download an XLS or JSON of the results.
